

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 An optical configuration that provides tunable characteristics. The tunable characteristics are applicable, for example, for channel monitoring, dispersion compensation and polarization-dependent loss. A passive optical element is used where the optical properties of this element varies as a 10 function of position on the element.

10051459-3

15

20

25

30

35